PITCHER DRAFTED

(By Associated Press.)

MUSCATINE, Ia., April 18.—Albert Gould, former Cleveland American league pitcher, will go to Jefferson barracks in May through the latest draft call. Gould broke into baseball here, starting in the Central association. Later he was drafted by Davenport of the Three-I league and sold by that club to Cleveland. Last season he played with Toronto and was disposed of to Salt Lake.

NEW WAR SECRETARY

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, April 18.—The Earl of Derby was today appointed ambassador extraordinary plenipotentiary on a special mission to France. He succeeds Lord Bertie, 74 years old. Viscount Milner is named as secretary of war and Jausten Chamberlain is appointed a member of the cabinet.

LETTER FROM SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE

Remarkable for its many interesting observations from one stationed with the expeditionary forces "somewhere in France," is a letter that has been received by G. D. Asher, assistant observer of the weather bureau and stationed in this district. The letter is from his brother, Newman Asher, who was in the civil service commission office at Washington, D. C., and who enlisted there and went with General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American forces in France. The letter follows:

Monday, March 10, 1918. Dear Dad: Yesterday I got your letter of February 9. I am glad to hear from you for I didn't know where to address you. I guess you know by now what "doughboys" are. The boys here that I am quartered with are not exactly "doughboys." It is the 147th machine gun battalion. They are doing (at this point in the letter the censor has clipped out a few words) here now. Some of them are drafted men who haven't had much previous training. The chief arguments they have are. Which is better, Idaho, California or Washington, D. C.? Of course, I say Texas is the best.

My work here consists of seeing that the medical property passing through is properly stored, loaded and shipped to the proper destination. Sometimes I must lug boxes, or boss workmen which may be either French, German, Moroccan, Belgian or Chinese natives. I also make daily and weekly reports of my work. I had hard work when I first came here, had to work some nights but now it is the easiest I have had in France. I will not attempt to go into further details.

We are quartered in a stone building which used to be a boarding school for boys. Schools here for boys are separate and for girls are separate. Children are sent to boarding schools to live. Just across the street is a church. On the other side is a "Place" what we call a square or circle. The car line passes here. There are French soldiers quartered here also and the whole thing, like all buildings here, is surrounded by a high stone wall. As to the dress and customs here, like Roosevelt, I refer you to my previous messages. A noticeable thing here is people walking in the middle of the street. Many streets are narrow and the sidewalks are so narrow that two can hardly walk abreast. Push carts, some of which have a dog and a woman hitched to them, are common. The dogs are enthusiastic pullers and are always impatient to be going.

Next year's class of soldiers are being examined now and make quite a noise on the streets evenings celebrating. Some women dress in local costumes which are quite peculiar. Yesterday clocks were advanced an hour, according to the daylight saving plan for the summer. As to my habits: I get up in time to eat breakfast at 7 a. m. We are called fifteen minutes beforehand. We sleep on bunks made of boards ele-

FOX, STATESMAN AND ORATOR

Brilliant Englishman Will Be Remembered as Firm Friend of American Independence.

Charles James Fox, great English statesman, who did so much for American independence, entered parliament as a Tory at nineteen, and was made lord of the admiralty at twenty-one. He incurred the lifelong enmity of George III by opposing a royal marriage bill, favored by the king, and at the king's instance he was dismissed from office. Thereupon he left the Tories and joined the Whig party, whose chief he soon became, leading them in their splendid opposition to Lord North and the war which ended in American independence.

Fox was kept out of office by the enmity of the king during 22 of the best years of his life (Lord Grenville finally refused to form a cabinet without him), but managed in spite of this to fight valiantly for many good measures, including Indian government reform, a better libel law and the abolition of the slave trade. He risked his life rising from a sick bed to speak for the latter.

Gambling, which his father taught him as a child, was Fox's besetting sin. He lost thousands by it, but when in 1793 his friends paid his debts and settled an annuity upon him, he never touched a card again.

Fox was one of the greatest orators who ever spoke in the British parliament. He is said to have possessed "above all moderns that union of reason, simplicity and vehemence which formed the prince of orators."

Interesting Old Egyptian Letters. Letter writing, fortunately, was much practiced in ancient Egypt, and there are quantities of letters between persons of all degrees of education and written on all sorts of occasions.

We may read, for instance, the encouragement and good advice sent by parents to absent sons, or may recognize familiar types of character in the answering effusions of children to parents—the spoilt boy who scolds his father for having left him at home instead of taking him to the capital; the well-conducted youth, who complacently assures his relatives that he is getting on very well, combining study with recreation, and the prodigal son, who writes to beg his mother's forgiveness and confesses that he has brought himself to destitution.

vated about a foot from the floor, a bunk for each one and on the bunk is a straw mattress. I have a round straw pillow also. We have a small stove which is just large enough to heat a pail of water. We have tables on which to eat and benches. We line up and get our meals dished out to us in our "tins" and nearly always get "seconds" if we wish. After breakfast I go to (blank) the place of work to see what has turned up. If I have nothing to do I go back, clean and fix clothes, shave, write and so forth. I go at least once a day to the army transport office, where I get my mail. After supper, or sometimes before, at 5 p. m. I go out on the streets or any place I wish to go. There are some good theaters and movies which have American pictures but for the last two weeks I have been going every night to my girl's house. She told me to tell my folks that "Vous avez entree dans une famille Francaise." (You have entered into a French family.) When a person goes to see a decent French girl he must visit the whole family. I am teaching me French. They are teaching me French. They have a little electric supply store here and they seem to be quite taken with me, but no more than I am with them. She "Anne Marie," wants me to have pictures of my home folks sent me or post cards of America so I would be glad if you would send some.

We went walking yesterday. Plum trees are blooming, the grass is green and it is warm like spring. I hope to stay here till the war is over, but a soldier can never tell what will happen to him. If I should ever be sent to the trenches I would try to transfer to the aviation corps. The folks I visit think this war will last two or three years more. One of their boys is in the trenches. He has been wounded and has a "Croix de Guerre" (war cross). Prices here are a little higher for most things than in America but the French will not starve for they eat everything and live on almost nothing. They eat collards, dandelions, barnacles, shrimps, snails and horse meat. One diversion we have is to buy snails or some other curiosity and bring it into camp to eat. As a "Limey" said, "These French are queer chaps."

My payroll got all balled up but I think they will get it straight soon. I had made an allotment to mamma which had been overlooked. My lieutenant, Feder, said he is working for my promotion but I have not seen any signs of his work yet. I understand that most of this unit has been promoted but I am alone here.

This is a long letter but I can't write such often, so send this to mamma when you have read it. May it carry a message of love to all the home folks, including you and family. Write often, papers or anything you can send will be welcome. Your brother, Newman E. Asher. (O. K. C. H. Wieder, 2nd Lt. U. S. N. G.)

Mr. Asher sent his brother a bundle of Bonanzas yesterday.

BREAK UP MEETING

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, April 18.—A Daily News dispatch says rioting attended the breaking up of the anti-conscription meeting yesterday at Belfast. The police used revolvers and were pelted by paving stones. Fifteen thousand participated in the meeting called by the labor party.

TO ENCIRCLE BERLIN

(By Associated Press.) GLOBE, Ariz., April 18.—Secretary McAdoo in a brief address here today said: "We won't stop this war until the battle line has been bent far enough to the east to put Berlin in the center of a circle formed by American troops."

CASUALTY LIST

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 18.—The casualties reported are 12 killed in action, 3 died from being wounded and 5 from disease. Seven were severely wounded and 45 slightly wounded.

MAN-POWER BILL

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, April 18.—The house of lords yesterday passed the second reading of the government's man-power bill.

STOP ADVANCE

(By Associated Press.) PARIS, April 18.—French fire frustrated an attempt of a strong German detachment to advance last night near Corbeny.

FIVE SHIP CAPTAIN

(By Associated Press.) SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Captain Paulsen of the steamer Alhance was fined $750 today on the charge of shipping ammunition and pistols to Mexican ports.

SPANISH SHIP SUNK

(By Associated Press.) MADRID, Spain, April 18.—The owners of the Spanish vessel Louisa have informed the government that the ship has been torpedoed. Three of the crew were lost.

RED CROSS DANCE SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

THOROUGHLY GOOD TIME ENJOYED BY LARGE CROWD AT AIRDOME LAST NIGHT

Last night it seemed that all Tonopah rallied to the support of the Red Cross and the Airdome was crowded from the time the dance began until long after 1 o'clock. The walls and beams of the big room were literally covered with flags and banners, the American flag predominating, of course, but the standards of our allies were very much in evidence. Our two service flags, the one belonging to the Elks and the one for Nye county, attracted a great deal of attention.

The little Sammies, made by the members of the Women's Relief Corps, were a decided hit and the source of a good revenue. Everyone was astonished and delighted with the skill in marching shown by the Boy Scouts as they executed various military formations at the word of command.

Mrs. Allene Case and her committee deserve the highest praise for the delightful way in which the affair was conducted and for its great success. An infinite amount of work is involved in carrying through a project of this kind and an infinite amount of self-sacrifice and attention to detail.

To the many people who gave so freely of their time, their effort and their money that last night's affair might be a great success, the committee desires to express its deepest appreciation and gratitude.

The sack of flour during the evening was auctioned off by Harry Grier, J. G. Crumley and P. S. Booth. The sack of flour changed hands six times. E. H. McMurray, the mining man, was the first to buy the sack for $15. Dr. T. A. Musante, Fred Brown, P. S. Booth and Frank T. Miller followed suit. The last purchaser of the sack was John G. Kirchen, who paid $25. He then turned the sack over to the Red Cross to be disposed of as they see fit. The sack of flour in changing hands netted the Red Cross $115. The Elmer Tanzy picture was won by Mrs. E. J. Erickson. The $50 Liberty bond, which was disposed of, went to Fred Brown.

The wheels of fortune, conducted by Eddie Addison, Art Keenan and Harry Grier, were well patronized. The gentlemen's hat room also brought in a liberal revenue, as no change was given at most of these places. The proceeds were all for the Red Cross cause.

The committee having in charge the various booths of Dame Fortune consisted of Frank J. Cavanaugh, chairman; A. H. Keenan, Arthur Brooke, Harry Grier, R. J. Highland, Eddie Addison, Ivan Arnold, John H. Troy, Ben D. Luce and Van Dusen. The general committee met this morning and after going over all bills and deducting the same, found from last night's entertainment a net profit of $1045, which will be turned over to the local Red Cross, showing that despite the many calls of the purses of local residents for war purposes, the feeling is still strong and will be still strong in the future to go over the top at any and all calls upon the patriotism of the people.

SIGNS WITH ST. LOUIS

(By Associated Press.) ST. LOUIS, April 18.—Bert Niehoff, second baseman, obtained by the St. Louis Nationals from the Philadelphia Nationals, yesterday signed his contract with St. Louis. President Branch Rickey of the St. Louis club, said Niehoff at no time was a hold-out from the Cardinals but had refused to sign with Philadelphia.

Jack Smith, star outfielder for the St. Louis Nationals, a hold-out who was paid a bonus to sign a contract for this year, received word yesterday that he had been placed in Class 1 of the draft and would be called in May.

ENGINEERS RETURN

(By Associated Press.) A CANADIAN PACIFIC PORT. Twenty-eight officers of the United States engineer corps who went to Vladivostok last November to help reorganize Russian railroads, arrived here yesterday on a trans-Pacific liner. During their stay in Vladivostok several Russian officers were killed. As one of the Americans put it, "It appeared to be an open season for Russian officers. Any Russian who held a commission was a poor insurance risk and was killed on sight."

EDITOR IN COURT

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, April 18.—Excerpts from issues of the Socialist magazine, The Masses, in which conscription was assailed as an "act of tyranny" and resistance of the draft was counseled, were read into the record at the trial yesterday of Max Eastman, former editor of the periodical, and four persons associated with him in its publication, who are charged with conspiracy to induce obstruction of the draft law.

AMUSEMENTS

VIVIAN MARTIN AT THE BUTLER

Winsome Vivian Martin, who is appearing at the Butler Theater this evening, in the Paramount picture, "The Trouble Buster," is known around the studios as "Miss Merry." This is because of the unlimited supply of good cheer which Miss Martin invariably carries concealed on her small person. "The Trouble Buster," which was written for Miss Martin by Tom Forman, a fellow-actor and an author, brings every bit of fun and loveableness of which Miss Martin is capable and proves that its name was well chosen, for it is guaranteed to dispell any lingering "glooms" besides telling a very dramatic story of real life. There are "society" films, films showing the struggles of the poor to make a living, and films dealing with the lives of the ultra-rich. But a photoplay that combines all these phases of life and still others is a rare treat. This is to be found in "The Trouble Buster," a very attractive and cheerful film production. And in addition to the feature, the Paramount Magazine and Bray celebrated cartoon comedy will be shown.

Tomorrow Montagu Love and Dorothy Kelly, in "The Awakening," and Doris Kenyon, in "The Hidden Hand," making a seven-reel program. There is only one more day of the Liberty loan contest—Remember, all votes must be in the ballot boxes by 6 o'clock on Friday night, in order that a correct count may be had by the time of the first show. Watch for announcement of Dorothy Dalton—coming soon.

SOME DAMAGE TO WHEAT

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 18.—Generally favorable weather caused a continued improvement to winter wheat during the week just ended, the weather bureau crop report yesterday announced. Some damage was done by freezing in Missouri but in Kansas prospects were greatly improved by soaking rains in the most important wheat producing counties, causing the crop to make steady improvement.

Seeding of spring grains is unusually well advanced but planting of corn is still slightly less advanced than normal in central districts. Iowa's acreage of corn will be reduced by scarcity of good seed.

SOME WET, SOME DRY

(By Associated Press.) ALBANY, N. Y., April 18.—Early returns from yesterday's local option elections show that the cities of Rome, Schenectady and Amsterdam voted for license, Gloversville, Jamestown and Auburn voted dry.
